

Religious Studies Teacher

La Salle High School is seeking a dynamic religious studies teacher with a strong theological background to teach in a variety of Religious Studies courses. Our Religious Studies faculty engage our diverse student body through active learning, critical thinking, spiritual self-reflection, and many co-curricular and service programs.

KEY CANDIDATE CHARACTERISTICS

- Maintains open, helping relationships with students.
- Has and continually develops a professional and ministerial knowledge of theology and religious education and utilizes a wide range of resources and techniques appropriate for use with students as they are educated within the Roman Catholic tradition and the Lasallian heritage.
- Works with and teaches the established and approved curriculum in Religious Studies and contributes to its development.
- Attends and participates in department meetings, professional development programs, as well as actively and continually participates in the co-curricular life of the school.
- Demonstrates evidence of commitment to a vision for 21st century teaching and learning and the ability to bring such a commitment to service on a daily basis.
- Participates regularly in programs of professional growth.
- Minimally holds a bachelor's degree in theology or religious education. Graduate degree preferred.
- Believes in the work of Lasallian Catholic education and shows evidence of developing the whole person through activities that help students grow in mind, body, soul, and spirit.
- Has the skills to work with a variety of student needs and to serve multiple learning styles.
- Uses school-based technology well, embraces effective practices in the chosen field of teaching/service, demonstrates strong communication skills, both written and spoken, and the ability to work collaboratively with others.
